

The Printing Lady is a comprehensive print and design service, bringing together all the knowledge and talent from local printers and designers around the Shropshire area.

We work with businesses of all sizes, offering a complete project management service. Why bother hiring a separate graphic designer and printer when you can put your trust in The Printing Lady to take care of everything, delivering what you want, when you want it, to your exact requirements and budget.

From small projects to large print runs, we can deliver everything from brochures and business cards to promotional materials such as pens and posters.

Give us a call today for all your design and print needs.
